115 Attend 1st of
Five Dairy Meetings

Interest was high in the first of five dairy short course meetings held last Thursday evening in the agricultural building of Joliet Township high school. 115 interested dairymen from just about every part of the county, and many from southern Cook county, heard Professor C. S. Rhode, of the University of Illinois, give them some practical advice, much of which could be used on any dairy farm.

This particular evening was devoted to feeding the dairy herd and related problems connected with nutrition. Rhode pointed out that many dairy men underfeed their cows, while at the same time a good many overfeed.

No meeting will be held Thursday evening, January 26, because of an all day Extension program being held at Beecher and Joliet.

On Thursday, February 2, the series will be resumed, with the speaker being Dr. Boley, of the College of Veterinary Medicine, University of Illinois. He will discuss, "How Can I Improve My Herd Health?" Anyone interested is welcome to attend.

ORGANIZE NEW MUSIC GROUP
IN MOKENA

At a meeting held in the Mokena public school last Tuesday, the Mokena Music association was formed and an election of officers held.

The purpose of the organization is to sponsor the Mokena grade school band and orchestra. Last September Miss Catherine Lilly undertook the initial project of organizing a grade school band. Arrangements were made for the children to purchase their own instruments over a period of time, the instruments were delivered and individual and group instruction was started. At the November meeting of the Parent Teachers association these embryo musicians demonstrated their progress to the amazement of all who heard them. It was obvious that if such results were possible after only two months of instruction, Mokena would soon have a musical organization in its own grade school to be proud of. It was also obvious that there would be a need for an adult organization to sponsor them and to assist Miss Lilly in creating interest in the project and to encourage more children to take part.

At the meeting Tuesday, 22 enthusiastic members elected officers and made plans for the future. Those heading the association are Thomas P. Powers, president and Mrs. Donald Ambuehl, secretary-treasurer.

The new group hopes to attain as much success as the Mokena Band Parents association which existed in Mokena for a number of years, sponsoring a band that at one time had 40 members, fully uniformed. It was finally dissolved and the uniforms given to the Parent Teachers association until such time as a new band might be formed. Therefore, due to the labor and oversight of the older group, the uniforms are available for use, and many Mokena people are looking forward to the sight of a uniformed school band giving musical entertainment of a high calibre.

Farm Bureau
Many New Members

When final tabulations were completed at the Farm Bureau membership drive report meeting held last Wednesday night at the Richards Street Methodist church in Joliet, volunteer workers let out a thunderous ovation when Herman Johnson, organization director for the Farm Bureau, announced that 115 had joined the organization during the week's campaign.

Johnson declared, "Credit for this fine job is entirely due to the fine cooperation and hard work given by our volunteer workers throughout the county.

With only 26 more members needed to reach a new all time high, Johnson challenged the workers to keep working and to secure at least 26 more members in order that a new banner could be made and presented at the Farm Bureau annual meeting to be held Saturday, February 18 and which would read, "3500."

Volunteer workers in Dist. 5 Homer-Lockport are: V. D. Lemmon captain, Robert Jungles, Charles Trantina and R. Reiter.

District 7, Frankfort-New Lenox, Herman Barlow, captain, George Mager and Phillip Triem.

District 9, Green Garden-Monee, Ray Walsh, captain, Carl Nagel and Fred Gill.

FRANKFORT
BUYS EJ&E WELL

The village of Frankfort has had an unusual opportunity to improve their water system by purchasing the existing well equipment and leasing the well from the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railroad company on its property on the southern boundary of the village.

Since the railroad has gone all out for Diesel engines, they no longer need the well, and upon the advice of the village engineers, the Mulford Engineering Service of Chicago Heights, the village has taken over the equipment. The purchase price was $3,500 which would have cost much more just to drill such a well. This water will be pumped directly into the village water mains on the south side, where it is also planned to extend the mains into territory now without them.

The pump house will be remodelled to suit the village needs.

75x2.9 Equals 100 Equals 50—Page Einstein

By ROBERT P. VANDERPOEL

An International News Service dispatch from Washington begins in this fashion:

"Your investment in democracy—War Savings Bonds—starts coming of age with the turn of the year."

"The Treasury says it stands ready to pay off that first billion dollars in bonds, subscribed back in 1940, but it hopes the money will be reinvested with Uncle Sam."

We have always maintained that if a democracy is to remain strong, people should own their Government's bonds, giving them a direct financial stake in the soundness of the Government. A majority of Americans apparently felt the same way for approximately 85,000,000 persons bought the securities of their Government during the 10 years covering the preparedness, the war and the postwar periods. For one reason or another, many of these holdings have been liquidated, but even today more than 50,000,000 Americans hold their Government's bonds.

The War Bonds which begin to mature this year will pay $100 for every $75 originally invested. This is an average return of 2.9 per cent. However, in the early years the return is small while in the later years it increases. Those who hold on to their bonds obtain a return on their money of slightly more than four per cent during the last few years.

There is another factor, however, which must be considered. When these first bonds to mature were purchased in 1940, the Government's wholesale price index averaged 78.6. This index rose to a peak of 169.2 in 1948 and during 1949 fluctuated between 151 and 165.

In other words, dollars today will buy just about one-half of what they did in 1940. Thus the thrifty and patriotic purchasers of War Bonds instead of getting $1 for each 75 cents invested are getting only 50 cents. Their investment, instead of increasing in value 33 1-3 per cent actually declined in purchasing power 33 1-3 per cent.

The Government, in effect, will have used the money for 10 years without interest and will pay back one-third less than it received.

On top of all that, the Government now proposes to collect income tax on the $25, representing the interest on the bonds.

Finally, it is hoping that its thrifty nieces and nephews will reinvest the funds now maturing in new bonds.

If one felt that the Government was doing everything in its power to economize, to maintain a strong financial position so that its bonds would not continue to depreciate in purchasing power, he might write off this loss as part of the cost of the war. Unfortunately, however, a large part of the depreciation of the dollar took place since the end of the war and Government policies, particularly during this past year, have not been conducive to sound Federal finance or maintenance of the dollar value, consequently the value of bonds.

We believe that Congress should give serious study to this whole matter. It has been suggested that the Treasury offer the holders of maturing bonds a new security on more attractive terms. The Treasury rejected the idea but Congress might well consider it.

JOHN M. KING of Wheaton, candidate for State Representative of the Republican Party, is shown above filing his petition with a clerk of the Secretary of State's office in Springfield. King, one of the younger men to enter the political field in this area for some time, has a broad background in civic and political affairs.

Even more important, we believe that the least that should be done for these bondholders is to make the interest tax exempt. The patriotic Americans who bought these bonds should not be required to pay taxes on the 50 cent dollars which the government is going to begin returning this year.—Chicago Herald-American.

Farmer and Business Man Runs for State Treasurer's Office

James Simpson of Wadsworth is a candidate on the Republican ticket for the office of State Treasurer.

"I am what may be called an independent candidate. I am tied to no boss, I have asked no one for permission to run for this office. If elected, I pledge I will cut down the operating costs of this office by not less than 15 percent," said Mr. Simpson.

He further states, "I know that my farm operation is only profitable when the expenditures are less than the income. I know that the great mercantile business with which I am associated as a director follows the same business rules. Income in our public offices must come down if our taxpayers are not to be taxed out of existence."

Simpson, a former Congressman from the 10th district in northern Illinois, is a war veteran, serving in the marine corps for three years during World War II, with 22 months of overseas service. He has the Asiatic Campaign ribbon with four stars as a memento of his service, and he also wears the insignia given to Past Commanders of posts of the American Legion.

Simpson owns and operates his own farm at Wadsworth, and maintains offices in Chicago where he is a member of the Board of Directors of Marshall Field and Company. He has been on the board since 1931, and is a member of the executive committee.

In a letter accompanying the check for the News-Bulletin subscription from Mr. and Mrs. Rene Guindon at Homestead, Fla., they state they are having sunshine every day temperatures between 75 to 83, daytime, and 58 to 63 night. They are planning a trip to the state fair at Tampa in February and hope at that time to call on the Carlos Hall family. We are glad to hear of this, but the postscript, by Rene, says he is sorry he can't shovel the snow off the walks for us this year. But guess we have the laugh on him, for we so far have had no snow to shovel. Raining here some today, a little fog, and today, Tuesday the temperature here is 58 and the sun is shining somewhat.

INCOME TAX

by John T. Jarecki, Collector of Internal Revenue for the First District of Illinois

Personal Exemptions

The Revenue Act of 1948 is applicable to income tax returns for the calendar year 1949.

The exemption allowed to each taxpayer is $600.00. An additional exemption of $600.00 is allowed for the taxpayer's spouse, if the spouse has no gross income and is not the dependent of another person.

The exemption allowed for each dependent is $600.00. The tests for dependency are the same as under the prior law, i. e.

1. He or she received over one-half of his or her entire support from you in 1949.

2. He or she was closely related to you.

3. He or she did not have $500.00 or more gross income for his or her own in 1949.

4. He or she, if married, did not file a joint return with his or her spouse.

5. He or she was a citizen of the U. S., or a resident of the U. S., Canada or Mexico.

Each taxpayer who has attained the age of 65 years before the end of the year will be allowed an additional exemption of $600.00. This additional exemption is treated in the same manner as the ordinary exemption. A married taxpayer can take the old age exemption for his spouse on his separate return, if she has no gross income and is not the dependent of another taxpayer.

A further exemption of $600.00 is allowed to each taxpayer who is blind at the close of the taxable year. A taxpayer may also claim an additional exemption of $600.00 for a blind spouse.

The same rules govern the allowance of the old age exemption and the blind exemption for a spouse as govern the allowance of the ordinary exemption for a spouse.

It is to be noted that the old age exemption and the blind exemption do not apply to dependents but to a husband or wife only. Thus a taxpayer who is supporting a relative who is over 65 years old or blind is still entitled to only one $600.00 exemption for the dependent relative. While the exemption for each dependent has been increased to $600.00 the test for dependency remains at $500.00 and no exemption may be claimed for a dependent whose gross income for the year is $500.00 or more.

Please do not forget that you must attach to your tax return Form W-2 that you received from your employers for 1949 salaries or wages. To prevent the loss of these forms you should pin or staple them to your return. File early if you expect a refund.

Young Republican Seeks Will County Sheriff's Office
Gerard F. Murray, Jr., of Peotone, is seeking the Republican nomination for sheriff of Will County in the primary election.

Murray is a resident of Peotone and operates a farm machinery business and is a partner in a hardware and appliance store in Peotone.

He is married, his wife is the former Merna Wemstrom of Manhattan, and they have two children. Prior to the war he lived on a farm west of town where his parents still reside. He served with the U. S. army during the war, spending two out of four years service overseas with the 88th infantry division. He was decorated twice for valor and was discharged a captain in March 1946.

He is a member of the Peotone volunteer fire department; Sportsmen club; American Legion; VFW; and is now president of the Farm and Good Neighbor club.

He feels that younger men should shoulder some of the responsibility in holding public office and feels he is qualified for his choosing the sheriff's race.

Shrine Circus at Hammond Jan. 23-29

The Civic Center at Hammond will be the Mecca for children of all ages, starting Monday night, Jan. 23, and continuing through Sunday, Jan. 29. The attraction is the seventh annual Orak Shrine-Polak Bros. Circus.

A brilliant new array of circus talent is promised by Melvin A. Monnett, Orak Temple's circus chairman, who declares this year's edition to be better than ever. Among the headliners are the great Loyal-Repensky Family of bareback riding champions in a magnificent equestrian extravaganza, Melitta and Wicon, sensational Swedish perch, equilibrist, Hubert Castle somersaulting wizard of the tight wire; the Seven Brannocks, whirlwind acrobats and such top aerial thrillers as Lalage, the Sikorska Duo, Rose Gould Trio and Seven Ward-Bell Flyers.

Besides the Loyal-Repensky horses, trained animal acts on the program include Pullenbergs' wonder bears, Woolford's performing dachshunds, Dock's basketball playing Boxer dogs, and Sally, Happy and Queenie, the MGM trained elephants.

Comedy highlights are furnished by Linon, celebrated Danish pantomimist, Alfredo Landon's midgets, and an assorted complement of clowns headed by the droll Otto Griebeling.

After opening night, matinees will be given daily at 3:45 Tuesday through Friday, and at 2:15 Saturday and Sunday. Night performances will be at 8:15.

MATCH GAMES

Bruns tavern of New Lenox bowled the Otto Bormet Garage of New Lenox, January 21. The match would have been very close except for Ted Rowsell who got on fire the first game, getting a nice 235 game and a 583 for his three games.

The Bormet boys could not hit their stride until the last game. By that time Bruns had too large a lead, winning by a total of 285 pins.

Stranger Was a Vet; Gets Legion Funeral

Miles City, Mont.—A stranger came to town here, sick and penniless. He was here but one day when he passed away.

There was no identification on the body but a stained piece of paper, frayed at the edges from much carrying around in a pocket. It was an honorable discharge from the Army in World War I. It showed that the bearer, Charles Kiehl, had fought with the 2nd Engineers at St. Mihiel, the Marne, the Meuse and in the Argonne. He had enlisted in Los Angeles in 1917.

Because of that slip of paper, Custer Post 5 of The American Legion turned out its chaplain, its color guards, its pall bearers and its firing squad for an impressive funeral.

The post laid the stranger to rest in The American Legion plot in Custer County Cemetery with full military rites. Chaplain Paul Kirts emphasized the stranger was no longer a stranger—he was sleeping with his buddies.

Headlight Glare Causes Accidents

Headlight glare is the number one enemy of the millions of Illinois motorists who drive at night. Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, announced.

He revealed that one out of every three motorists driving on highways after dark forgets or refuses to dim his lights for approaching cars.

These inconsiderate practices are particularly perilous at this time of the year, due to longer hours of darkness and unusually adverse weather conditions.

Forty-six per cent of the motor vehicle accidents reported on Illinois highways last year occurred from dusk to dawn. Accident reports showed that a great number of these accidents were either directly or indirectly caused by glaring headlights.

Mr. Hayes pointed out that headlight glare can cause temporary blindness lasting seven seconds during which time an auto moving 40 miles an hour will have traveled 420 feet with its driver unable to see traffic signals, other cars or pedestrians in its path.

For safer night time driving the Chicago Motor club suggests that you always lower headlight beams when approaching other cars from the front or rear; keep your eyes trained on the center line or on the road shoulder; slow down for night driving; make frequent stopovers on long trips to rest your eyes and reduce fatigue and strain; be extra alert for pedestrians and cars parked along the road; if you must stop, pull off the roadway or as far to the right as possible, keeping the parking and tail lights on as a warning to other cars; don't drive if you feel drowsy.

The Thursday Afternoon club will go to Chicago next Thursday, have dinner and attend a show.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Schieck entertained their card club Friday evening.

The Mokena Girl Scout troop 103 who are collecting used white goods material for the Cancer drive, report they have not received much response from the community. They are anxious to collect old sheets, pillow cases, etc., that can no longer be of use to the owner. They can be of great use to the Cancer society who make pads etc. of this old material. Anyone having some to give to this cause, please call Mary Ann Rink, 2161; Carole Steele, 3743; or Sherry Swart, 3631 and these girls will be glad to call at your home for it.
